More Housekeeping...

- The Cap-and-Trade Regulations are subject to change, and such changes may have a material impact on the operation of Exhibit C-SS. Accordingly, all WSPP members and other attendees of this webinar should consult with their own legal counsel regarding the then-current state of the Cap-and-Trade Regulations.
- Exhibit C-SS may be periodically reviewed and revised after publication in response to such changes or other market developments and comments received. However, the foregoing is not a warranty that further revisions will be made, or of the timeliness or comprehensiveness of such revisions.

Last ones... we promise!

- The current Cap & Trade regulations and the Mandatory Reporting regulations are and will be changing. This presentation does not reflect recent MRR revisions proposed by CARB Staff.
- All trade information, including without limitation: price, term, meter data, damages, generating units, and counterparties, are FICTITIOUS and for ILLUSTRATIVE PURPOSES ONLY, and should not be construed to suggest any relation to real persons, prices, generating units or meter data of any specific facility.
